Applicant is hereby notified that the required timing for the correction of drawings has changed. See the last 6 lines on the sheet which is attached entitled "Attachment for PTO-948 (Rev. 03/01 or earlier)". Due to the above notification Applicant is required to submit drawing corrections within the time period set for responding to this Office action. Failure to respond to this requirement may result in abandonment of the instant application or a notice of a failure to fully respond to this Office action.

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. § 121:

I. Claims 51-82, drawn to a support with attachment layer of diamond-like carbon, classified in Class 422, subclass 68.1. If this group is elected, then the below summarized specie election is also required.

II. Claims 83-91, drawn to a method of detection via capture on a support, classified in Class 435, subclasses 6 and 7.1. If this group is elected, then the below summarized specie election is also required.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

The inventions of Group I and Group II are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (M.P.E.P. § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the product of Group I can be utilized in the materially different process of synthetic reactions wherein a molecule, such as an analyte, is captured and then further reacted. For example, nucleic acids may be captured followed by polymerase chain reaction to synthesize additional molecule or analyte type material. In another example, an enzyme protein may be captured and then utilized to manufacture enzymatic products of the enzymatic action of said enzyme protein. Solid phase synthetic reactions are commonly known and are most commonly also published separate from detection methodology thus supporting the undue search burden if Groups I and II were to be searched together.

SPECIE ELECTION REQUIREMENT FOR EITHER OF GROUPS I OR II:

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention: A central issue is the direct binding or capture by the diamond-like carbon as required in instant claim 51. Thus, the types of diamond-like carbon, as listed in claims 58 or 74 are species of this critical limitation in the claims. An election of one type of diamond-like carbon from these claims is required. It is noted that Group II lacks a claim which specifically lists these carbon types but that the supports therein utilized are those of Group I and therefore the same species of diamond-like carbon is apparently meant to be utilized therein which results in the specie election requirement for Group II to be the same.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. § 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 51-91 are generic in their respective groups to the above species of carbon type.

Applicant is advised that a response to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 C.F.R. § 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. M.P.E.P. § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. § 103 of the other invention.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the response to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR § 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 C.F.R. § 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a diligently-filed petition under 37 C.F.R. § 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 C.F.R. § 1.17(h).

Papers related to this application may be submitted to Technical Center 1600 by facsimile transmission. Papers should be faxed to Technical Center 1600 via the PTO Fax Center located in Crystal Mall 1.
